

Activities using raw data from the authors available on Science in the Classroom

Selected SitC resources include activities that allow for students to work with data provided by the authors. The following is a list of SitC resources with accompanying raw data activities.

A Tiny Fungus is Causing Big Problems

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/3/activities>

Replicating Photosynthesis

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/11/activities>

A New Diagnostic Strategy for Prostate Cancer

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/52/activities>

Experiments Einstein Could Only Dream Of

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/53/activities>

What the Pelvis Can Teach Us About Evolution

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/54/activities>

The Art of DNA

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/76/activities>

Lemmings: They're What's for Dinner

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/77/activities>

How Dynamic is your Virus?

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/89/activities>

Do Clouds Need Passports?

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/96/activities>

Quake, Rattle, and Roll

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/108/activities>

Cracking the Armor

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/116/activities>

Deep Clean Your Brain in One Easy Step!

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/122/activities>

New Neurons Stand Out From the Crowd

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/123/activities>

Chemical Reactions Up Close

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/131/activities>

Do You Remember Being Born?

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/136/activities>

Jumping Genes!

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/140/activities>

Gearing Up to Jump

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/162/activities>

Lights, Motor Neurons, and Muscle Action!

<http://scienceintheclassroom.org/research-papers/164/activities>